

4th Annual Justice, Crime, and Deviance: Regional Graduate Research and Networking Conference

Wilfrid Laurier University, Brantford

Research and Academic Centre, 150 Dalhousie St. Brantford, ON Friday, June 17, 2016

CALL FOR PAPERS

Wilfrid Laurier University cordially invites you to submit proposals for paper, poster, and video presentations for the fourth annual Justice, Crime, and Deviance: Regional Graduate Research and Networking Conference, to be held in Brantford, Ontario on Friday, June 17, 2016. This interdisciplinary conference will provide a platform for graduate students to share completed and ongoing research endeavors related to justice, crime, and deviance in a supportive and encouraging academic setting. The conference will also present valuable professional development and peer-networking opportunities.

Last year's conference showcased the research of 26 MA and PhD students from a wide range of programs and academic institutions. Panel themes included law and political institutions, cultural and mediated representations of justice, policing and police services in Canada, power, privilege, and group relations, the intersectionality of gender, race, class, and crime, and special topics related to crime, and deviance.

Proposals should include:

- Personal information (name, program, year of study, institutional affiliation)
- Title and type of presentation (paper, roundtable, poster, video)
- Presentation abstract (250 word maximum)

Please submit proposals to jcdgradconference@gmail.com by FRIDAY, MARCH 25th, 2016.

A dinner and social will take place immediately after the conference concludes on Friday, June 17th. Additional information (including the conference schedule and program) will be forthcoming. To receive updates, please send an email to the above address and request to be placed on the conference mailing list. Any further inquiries may also be directed to conference organizers at the listed email address.
